Customer service

Whilst all manufacturing takes place at our state-of-the-art facility in the Midlands, our dedicated, knowledgeable client service teams are on hand to provide the best advice to you during the production process. Providing best value, cost-effective solutions across your print requirement is key to us, ensuring that you benefit from a more personal, yet professional service.

Our central London premises provides Cantate Communications with the perfect platform to provide its London-based clients with unparalleled levels of service. The upgrade to our proofing facilities has given us the advantage of being able to actually produce proofs in London, therefore providing a faster service from receipt of artwork files. All output devices are calibrated back to the printing presses so wherever your proof is output, you are in the knowledge that it will be accurate for colour, even on uncoated stocks.

Your dedicated account manager will continue to be a key part of our ongoing working relationship and will be responsible for managing your needs to the point of delivery. Our dedicated fleet of vehicles will ensure that your goods arrive to your door on time, every time!

...24 hours a day.

Cantate Communications provide a unique one-stop print solution that encompasses the entire production process, from one manufacturing site working 24 hours a day, six days a week. This enables us to provide a totally flexible and reliable service to meet the demands of your business and therefore becoming a key extension of your marketing operation.

We have recently completed a significant investment programme that has seen the arrival of two new Heidelberg presses, an XL-105 + coat and an XL-75 + coat. These have been complemented with the addition of two new Heidelberg folding machines. In essence, this has given Cantate Communications the platform to increase its capacity by investing in faster-running, more efficient machinery.

The XL generation presses are market-leading printing presses, that are the most environmentally friendly in their class; the water-based coating unit removes the need for excessive spray powders, which can lead to a rough sandpaper feel to a printed product, whereas the coating will provide a smooth satin feel. The built-in colour management system 'impress control', which has the ISO 12647 colour standard accreditation, is also calibrated back to the proofing, ensuring consistent quality of colour through the whole print run, and with the print leaving the press virtually dry, this gives us the advantage of processing your work effectively.

Our two new folding machines enable us to provide different folding combinations, as well as perfectly folded leaflets and brochures that will be representative of a quality service and product. The combination of this equipment will ensure Cantate Communications remain at the forefront of the printing industry, giving you the peace of mind when it comes to a long-term business relationship with a key supplier.

Repeat business is all about having a reliable supplier who will deliver for your key dates. Cantate Communications will prove an effective and reliable part of your operation throughout the year, therefore enabling you to plan your campaigns in the knowledge that you have the full support of a quality supplier.
